

30 Days for

Assault on

Policeman

RE. JAN 20 1967

David R. Grossman, 22, a warehouse lumber of 2331 Carleton St., Berkeley, will spend 30 days in county jail for assaulting and injuring an Oakland police officer during an arrest.

Grossman was taken into custody on a citizen's arrest by Mrs. Jean Troutman, 22, 744 52nd St. last July 9. He had hammered upon the door and demanded entry into her house.

Turning on the two responding police officers, Grossman kicked and broke the left ankle of Patrolman Charles C. Heidler and assaulted but was subdued by Patrolman Joseph L. Bean.

A jury convicted Grossman of one of the felony batteries, that involving Heidler, but the other count covering Bean was dismissed.
